DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-3, 6, and 15-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Koch.

Regarding claim 1, Koch discloses an apparatus for transferring a label portion from a label assembly onto an object. Koch includes a base (10) with a stop wall (12) and an application area (13) which is bound by the stop wall (12). Koch also includes a first stripping member (15) which includes fingers as seen in Figure 1. The fingers extend from the stop wall (12) toward the application and are suspended there over to hold the disk separate from label prior to the labels application to the disk. (Col. 6, lines 19-37.) Furthermore a gap is located between the stripping member (15) and the application area as can be seen in Figures 2 and 6. Koch also includes a second stripping member which acts as a hub (18). The member (18a) is at the end of the U-shaped slots (17) and are suspended over at least a portion of the application area (13) such that a gap is formed between the member (18a) and the application area. The label is positioned on the base between the first stripping member and the second stripping member. (See Figure 2.)

Art Unit: 1734

Regarding claim 2, the stripping members (15) around the periphery of the wall act as indexing elements.

Regarding claim 3, the side cavities (16a) shown in Figure 1 are opposing guides.

Regarding claim 6, the stripping member (18a) has separate opposing members as defined by the claim. (See Figure 1.)

Regarding claim 15, the device in Koch is made from plastic.

Regarding claims 16 and 17, the stop wall is integrated with the base and extends along at least a portion of the periphery of the base.

Regarding claim 18, the stripping members (15) are "integrated" with the wall (12) because there are made from the plastic and connected thereto.

Regarding claim 19, the wall is effectively "sloped."

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 24-39 are allowed.
4. Claims 4, 5, 7-13, 22, and 23 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 05 December 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. As set forth above, Koch discloses the material applicant has added to claim 1.

Art Unit: 1734

Conclusion

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a).

Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
